At this conference, students have a chance to show their thesis. Students get to see full research programs, and insight into what they will do during 5th year of degree. Build foundations, No knowledge gap for anyone who goes.
5. What is the primary purpose of attending this event? (Educational,	5. Learn from other programs there and how to better benefit PSU architecture

6. If networking/career-focused sessions were not part of this event, would you still be attending?	6. Yes, I would think so.
7. How did you choose the members that are going on this trip?	7. Team thesis of 10 people going to present. I chose 4 members from the exec board who will be future e-board members to share knowledge. For non-exec members, they are able to reach out to AE department.

SCT: A really important thing for the Org to participate in. Falls into their mission statement, and broadens their knowledge, and allows them to bring back knowledge for their thesis. CM 1: Straightforward budget looks solid. Main purpose looks educational. CM 2: Good thing to get involved in for members, allows them to put a mark out there for Penn State.

Minutes:

Description of the Budget:
The IST Living Learning Community (LLC) is an on campus community of individuals living together on the second floor of Thompson Hall. Students from all colleges are welcome to join, but it is primarily aimed towards students within the College of IST. This trip is an opportunity for IST LLC members to develop stronger personal connections and experience Washington D.C. as a community on our annual Spring Trip. Students will have the opportunity to visit a range of venues relevant to their career and personal interests.
Questions from the Committee:	Responses from the Presenter:
1. Have you paid for anything yet?	1. No
2. How do you plan to fund the portion of expenses that UPAC will not cover?	2. If there is a difference between what we can or cannot cover, they will try and have that covered through IST grants and ASA funds
3. Has your number of attendees changed since submitting your budget on OrgCentral?	3. No, but they are looking to keep advertising the trip and more people may be added later.
4. What information are you going to bring back from this travel experience to share with the Penn State UP community?	4. Networking (internal) – give the students an opportunity to get to know more people and each other better

5. What is the primary purpose of attending this event?	5. Community engagement -they are required to attend a certain number of events per year, internal networking and engagement are the main purpose
6. If networking/community-building were not part of this event, would you still be attending?	6. Yes, free travel is a bonus and without the funding many members would not go
7. How did you choose the members that are going on this trip?	7. Interest form, open to all members which has not hit its cap yet.
8. Are you receiving any academic credit for attending this event?	8. No
9. Could you detail the itinerary of the trip?	9. Social trip and community building, trying to get back to speed. See IST outside the classroom. History and technology reflect, importance and applies to classes. Reconnect with each other, build relationships, many are first years.
10. How many educational tours are you planning on going to in DC?	10. Splitting into groups based on interests. 4 throughout the day. Everyone would be required to go to National Air and Space since it aligns with the major
11. Is the trip open to all IST students or just in the LLC	11. Not open to whole university/department, only LLC.

Committee Discussion:
SCT1: The focus is community building and through their discussions they talked about network building more than the educational part. SCT2: It is a travel budget, and it feels more like a retreat. Based on our handbook we can't fund a community building event. CM 1: Community building was mentioned multiple times through this meeting, even though they said they would go if community building was not a part of it, anyone would still go for the experience. CM 2: Community building can't be funded, and it has been mentioned around 12 times, what they said in this meeting showed that community building is a part of this budget. CM 3: The handbook says that community building cannot be funded and based off what we heard in this meeting we believe that this budget's main purpose is community building.

CM 4: This trip seems to have more of an emphasis on engagement and rather this doesn't bring anything back as a whole and this will all stay more towards to club rather than for every one of the Penn State community as a whole.

Minutes Taker(s):	Sam and Ishaan
SCT Member(s):	Liam

Organization Presenter:	Ivonna Wilder
Presenter's Email:	iuw16@psu.edu

Minutes:

Description of the Budget:
The Casino Management Club is a student organization dedicated to enhancing our understanding of various aspects of the casino gaming industry and casino resorts. As students studying Casino Operation Management at Penn State, we believe that firsthand experience is essential to complement our classroom education. Our primary goal is to gain insights into the day-to-day operations and behind-the-scenes workings of prominent casino resorts. We have coordinated with alumni from our school, who have facilitated exclusive tours, seminars, and workshops for our club members. These tours will provide invaluable hands-on experience and contribute significantly to our education.

Questions from the Committee:	Responses from the Presenter:
1. Have you paid for anything yet?	1. Not yet but have a friends and family Hilton discount.
2. How do you plan to fund the portion of expenses that UPAC will not cover?	2. The School of Hospitality Management will fund the remaining amount of money.
3. Have your priorities for UPAC funding changed?	3. No
4. What information are you going to bring back from this travel experience to share with the Penn State UP community?	4. We have 4 tours booked. Front house and back house tours. Insights on how casinos work and places the public wouldn't get to see/learn from.

5. What is the primary purpose of attending this event? (Educational, Service, Competition, Performance, or Other)	5. Learn more about industries outside of what they learn in class (mainly taught restaurants and hotels in class). Get more knowledge on the Casino industry. Give students in school another career option.
6. If networking/career-focused sessions were not part of this event, would you still be attending?	6. Yes
7. How did you choose the members that are going on this trip?	7. All of the exec board, because just starting back up. Bringing back information to students in the club for the future.
8. Are you receiving any academic credit for attending this event?	8. No
9. Has your number of attendees changed since submitting your budget on OrgCentral?	9. No, still 5 students.
10. Can you detail the tours you are going on and what you will be learning on them?	10. Security protocols, food and beverage, things you wouldn't experience as a guest (front and back of house). Four tours on different properties will be in every part of the casino industry (advisor sounds to have booked the tours and has only passed on basic information). At the end of the tours there will be a Q&A session with industry mentors.

Committee Discussion:

SCT: I do think it is an important concept to look in their club to back of the casinos and learn more about the casinos and bring back the knowledge back to campus. This will also further develop the club. This will help the casino management club learn more about the industry because the college of hospitality management no longer teaches about casinos.

SCT 2: I am excited for the opportunity for them, there is no real casino experience in Pennsylvania, the primary purpose seems educational as well.

CM 1: I think it is a good real-world opportunity because it is tailored toward their major.

CM 2: I think what they're doing is beneficial and honorable, considering how their club fell apart during the pandemic.

6. How does this event enhance the Penn State experience for students?	6. At state college and other campuses there are not many pre-law opportunities compared to other careers. We want to make this an event open to everyone and give them the chance to get information that they might not normally have access to. This also allows our lower income students to have a chance to learn more

8. How did you select this year's performing speakers? Have they performed or spoken at Penn State in the past 12 months?	8. We did our research on a few, we wanted someone who was able to speak on being both a lawyer and civil rights. No they have not spoken in the last 12 months.

Committee Discussion:
SCT: I love how they are providing this opportunity to our campus. I do feel like for prelaw students, they do not have that many opportunities on campus. There are some grey areas to the funding however, the stickers, water bottles, etc. CM 1: Overall, its a solid budget. I love the way they are trying to run the event. I wish them the best of luck CM 2: They mentioned promotional. They made it feel like it would be about recruitment and membership retention, and it didn't seem integral. CM3: I really liked what they're trying to do for those interested in legality and law. I am more then happy to fund the speakers but the door prizes leave me a bit uneasy. I do not believe they are integral to the event.

Committee Discussion:
SCT: This is a very effective budget, and I think that it is important for students to hear opinions on expressive topics from both sides. SCT2: Overall, I think that this budget and this program are trying to accomplish an important perspective on campus by presenting discussion topic that some students might engage some students. CM 1: It is important to bring speakers from all portions of the political spectrum and all aspects of the budget fall within our handbook while they might hit the caps in some aspects. CM 2: I think this budget is important in that it helps invite discussion on topics that affect many students on campus. It is good to be exposed to different perspectives on issues as large scale as these to gain a better understanding of the issue. CM 3: I believe this is a solid budget. Although only one speaker will be attending, it is important to bring up some controversial topics to challenge our ways of thinking.

CM 4: We should never preface that something is controversial as it makes us think a certain way. We are making this decision as objectively as possible and take into consideration that this organization is trying to accomplish its mission statement and as an allocation board, we aim to help them achieve that if they are meeting our criteria.

Creating an educational environment for young entrepreneurs from Penn State by making connections with venture capitalists in Boston area.

On Thursday, our agenda includes engaging with venture capitalists (VCs) to gain valuable insights into their respective industries. Additionally, we will be learning from Boston-based entrepreneurs and those affiliated with Northeastern University and Boston University. This strategic collaboration aims to expose passionate NES students to diverse industries, providing them with inspiration for their future companies and invaluable industry insights. Details relate to the location: https://venturecafecambridge.org

The org president that reach out to us : Dhananjai Senthil Kumar
Lastly, we will be travel back to State College on Sunday. In summary, our trip will revolves around immersive learning and collaboration. We are strategically positioning NES and Penn State students to tap into valuable resources, funding opportunities, and the collective wisdom of industry leaders, all of which will contribute to the success and growth of our entrepreneurial community. Your support will play a crucial role in ensuring the fruition of these ambitious plans and the continued development of NES and Penn State entrepreneurs.

Questions from the Committee:	Responses from the Presenter:
1. Have you paid for anything yet?	1. No

2.	How do you plan to fund the portion of expenses that UPAC will not cover?	2.	Unrestricted funds
3.	Have your priorities for UPAC funding changed?	3.	Technically we did not turn everything in order. Lodging is our top priority
4.	What information are you going to bring back from this travel experience to share with the Penn State UP community?	4.	I have been developing a talent portal to help figure out what they are looking for. I will be talking with business owners and will be posting the information. We are a community where the goal is to highlight these projects and to acknowledge our UP students. Boston is connected, and I have a solid way of approaching this.
5.	What is the primary purpose of attending this event? (Educational, Service, Competition, Performance, or Other)		Education, bringing more people together, bottom top approach of inspiring the next generation, and bring the resources back
6.	If networking/career-focused sessions were not part of this event, would you still be attending?	5.	Yeah of course. The most important thing is getting to learn in person.
7.	How did you choose the members that are going on this trip?	6.	It is open to everyone. It is a first come first served basis though.
8.	Are you receiving any academic credit for attending this event?	7.	No
9.	Has your number of attendees changed since submitting your budget on OrgCentral?	8.	No. But the name might be changing. That is not the final list of the people that will be going.
10.	What is your itinerary for this travel?	9.	We want to maximize our time while here. On Thursday we will be leaving in the morning and arriving around 2pm in New York, having an event around 4. On Friday, we will be leaving to go to Boston, and Saturday we have a coffee side chat around 5-6 with entrepreneurs talking about their experiences. On Sunday we will be leaving.

Committee Discussion:
SCT: I recognize how this is somewhat of a grey zone, but I don't believe networking is the primary goal here. They really want to rebuild and bring a lot back to the Penn State community to inspire them and explore their field. They mentioned repeatedly that education is the main goal, and they would still attend without networking; policy wise, I don't feel as though there's any flags for concerns.

CM 1: I feel a little on the fence. I do feel this is networking. They had educational components, but it felt like majority networking to me. It was a bit hard to tell and straddled the line because of their focus on entrepreneurship.

CM 2: This budget can be a more challenging one with this in-between educational and networking. I believe this is educational because one of the members mentioned he created a page to post what they have learned to share to other UP students including students attending branch campuses.

CM 3: They went very in depth on how they bring different students, but it is somewhat problematic with attendance points. I worry they may cherry-pick based on networking components.

SCT: He encouraged new people to sign up and mentioned that it is first come, first served. By judge of our UPAC policies, I feel it is fair.

Comments: You hear them say connect and network, they focused a lot on funding and resources. It doesn't feel as if according to the guidelines. There are many points that made me feel that it wasn't justified in funding due to sponsorship and alumni relations/support.
